NOTICE TO CACHE COUNTY

Cache County Offices to Remain Open during Coronavirus Protocol

Cache County offices will remain open during the Coronavirus precautionary protocol period. County Executive, Craig Buttars said it is his intent to keep offices open during regular business hours at this time. However, in keeping with CDC, State, and local Health Department guidelines, the County asks that the public conduct as many transactions as possible online. Please do not come to the County offices if you are sick. We will observe social distancing protocol to the best of our ability, and ask the public to do so, as well. If you have questions or need County Services, please try calling the office before coming in person.

The next Cache County Council meeting is scheduled March 31, 2020. We will evaluate the situation and are considering having a meeting that is closed to public attendance but live streamed on the County Facebook page.

The Cache County Event Center is closed to events and groups larger than 20 people. Also, the Cache County Library is closed for the next two weeks at which time we will reevaluate and determine whether to remain closed or open.

The Cache County Senior Citizens Center has closed the dining room and canceled group events. However, Meals on Wheels food is still being delivered and meals are being prepared each day for those who wish to come pick them up at the entrance to take home.

We are consulting with the Bear River Health Department (435-792-6500) on an hourly basis and relying on their well-researched and evaluated information. Of course, the current situation is very fluid, and things can change quickly, but we believe this is the best practice for our government offices at this time. We will get through this with your support and patience.
